

VISIONALIST ENTERTAINMENT PRODUCTIONS PRESENTS

MICHIGAN, OUR VIETNAM GENERATION 2010

The reception we've received across Michigan for Detroit: Our Greatest Generation has been universally positive. Throughout the filming, the questions posed most frequently were: What about our Vietnam vets? Don't they deserve their own documentary?

Absolutely.

Topping the list of our goals for 2010 is a documentary of similar scope and length to recognize the sacrifices made by Michigan's veterans of the Vietnam conflict.

However, the key to success in this long-overdue endeavor is finding the funding support. We operate without government grants or similar subsidies. One hundred percent of our funding comes from the support of the community or corporate leaders. In tough economic times, finding sponsors willing to stand behind even such worthy causes is understandably difficult. But we believe the effort, hardly on the scale of the men and women we're honoring, is well worth it.

If you'd like to be a part of Michigan's Vietnam Generation, either as a sponsor or because you were there and would like to share your story, please contact:
